The Grande Seconde Skelet-One Tourbillon aesthetic architecture is as technical as it is unique. For Only Watch, Jaquet Droz put to work its Ateliers d'Art as well, in order to produce a highly exclusive plique-à-jour dial, made especially for the famous charity sale. The composition is not formed of a single piece of enamel; rather it is made up of cells of different colors and shapes. These cells are separated by gold cloisons. With no metal backing, the composition is a standalone piece similar to a stained glass window. Every piece of enamel has been painstakingly selected for the model and fired at a high temperature several times in a row before the ultimate polishing step. The tourbillon cage follows the geometry of the skeleton movement, in a triple cross shape which, once a minute, aligns perfectly with its bridges.

THE GRANDE SECONDE SKELET-ONE TOURBILLON is a masterpiece of watchmaking art. It is a unique piece of art, created by the Jaquet Droz atelier in Neuchâtel, Switzerland. The watch is made of 18K red gold and features a black leather strap. The dial is a plique-à-jour enamel, which is a highly technical and artistic process. The watch is a limited edition of 100 pieces.

Konstantin Chaykin presents the Martian Tourbillon Only Watch 2021 Piece Unique, the first wristwatch from the Russian creator to have a tourbillon, and the world's first Martian tourbillon, making a revolution every 61.65 seconds – the duration of one Mars minute – partially reducing the effects of Mars' gravity. The hand-wound Calibre K.22-0 has been developed from scratch. At its heart is a Martian tourbillon with an "alpha" carriage, as used in all of Konstantin Chaykin's tourbillons. For this watch, Konstantin Chaykin created a unique skeletonised dial with Joker-indication, the face of the Joker-Martian, with the world's first Martian calendar device, working based on the algorithms of Thomas Gangale's calendar system. The trademark smile of this new Wristmon is used as a representation of the Martian month, consisting of 28 sols, with the sol numeral markers made with symbols of the Martian numbering system that Konstantin Chaykin invented specially for this watch.

6 ноября в женевском Palexro, под патронатом принца Монако Альберта II и в его присутствии, прошел девятый благотворительный аукцион Only Watch. За три часа торгов было собрано 30 млн франков – меньше, чем в 2019-м, но все же, согласитесь, не плохо! Яркие моменты продажи вы сможете заново пережить в нашей

фотогалерее, а о том, как проходил аукцион, читайте в нашей заметке. Все фото – ©
